Ceilings Decision Tonight

Members Price Decontrol Board Will Explain To The Nation

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—The nation learns tonight whether such major dinner-table items as meats, milk and butter are going back under price ceilings.

As the climax of nine days of searching study, the price decontrol board will announce its decisions at about 7 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The board plans to say whether ceilings will be restored on livestock, dairy products, grains, cotton seed, soy beans and hundreds of products derived from these basic commodities.

At 9 p. m. (EST), the three members will explain in an all-network radio broadcast why they decided as they did.

However, even if the board orders controls re-established on any of the items involved, the new ceilings will not become effective until Friday, OPA boss Paul Porter announced last night.

"We do not know what the board's decision will be," Porter said in a statement.

"A little time, therefore, is necessary for business to readjust itself to such re-control as the board may order and to permit the (OPA) administrator to determine what specified changes in the (price) regulations may be required by the decision of the board."

To Defer Announcement
This means, OPA officials said, that if the board orders re-establishment of controls, OPA will defer until Wednesday or Thursday any announcement of what the ceilings will be.

Prior to Porter's action, any controls restored by the board would have become effective tomorrow. Thus, OPA would have had to follow up the board's announcement immediately with a schedule of ceiling prices.

The two-day postponement also will apply, OPA said, in the unlikely event the board fails to make a ruling on one or more of the five categories of commodities.

Congress provided for automatic restoration of controls, effective tomorrow, over any commodity on which the board failed to rule. But it also gave OPA the discretionary postponement authority which Porter exercised.

Aides of the board said, however, that members "confidently expect" to make decisions on the whole range of commodities.

The three-man board stayed hard at work on its job as the deadline approached. Late last evening it was still collecting information on what has happened to prices on the items congress specifically decontrolled.

President Switches Plans, Heads South, No Destination

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN OFF NEW ENGLAND, Aug. 20.—(P)—President Truman switched vacation plans because of the weather today and headed the yacht Williamsburg southward instead of toward the Maine coast.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross radio-telephoned reporters aboard the accompanying destroyer escort Weiss that the party "is heading in a southerly direction, with no fixed destination." The ship, he said, will not anchor tonight.

Original plans called for a trip up to Eastport, Maine.

Said Ross: "At the moment it's a sort of journey into nowhere. It's just a vacation and the President can frolic around in the Atlantic if he wants to. At the moment there is no fixed destination."

The presidential yacht Williamsburg moved out of Quonset Point at 7:15 a. m. (Eastern daylight time), a few minutes after the President returned to the ship.

Strolls Down Gangplank
He strolled down the gangplank at 6:15 a. m., followed by Capt. James H. Foskett, his naval aide, and Clark Clifford, his special counsel.

Reporters suggested he add a sweater to his costume as they shivered in the breeze and a 59-degree temperature.

Laughing off this idea, the President said he would walk fast enough to keep warm.

He stepped off at his regular speed of 120 paces a minute. The ship headed for the Cape Cod area of Massachusetts.

Police Chief's Resignation Is Withdrawn

Finnell Resumes Duties; Council Transacts Business

Anson Finnell, who on July 31st tendered his resignation as chief of police, giving as the reason that a $50 car allowance had been withdrawn, without his knowledge, Monday night, at the regular Council meeting, presented a written request that the resignation be withdrawn, which was done and he now resumes his duties as chief of the police department.

Withdrawal Request
His request read: "City of Sedalia, 'Sedalia, Missouri' 'August 19, 1946

"On July 31st, I tendered my resignation to the Honorable Mayor and Council.

"My resignation was tendered because a $50.00 per month car allowance I had drawn for almost a year was discontinued. At the time I tendered my resignation, I did not fully realize the legal aspects of this allowance, and after careful consideration and being fully advised, I now respectfully request the Honorable Mayor and City Council to permit me to withdraw my resignation.

"Anson Finnell"

Granted Unanimously
Gil Sublett, chairman of the police committee, moved the request be granted. It was seconded by John Taylor, and approval was given by the unanimous vote of the Council.

John O'Brien had been named by Mayor Julian H. Bagby acting chief during his absence. The matter of accepting or rejecting his resignation was brought up at the Council session August 5, but was held over without action.

Cline Cain, representing residents of Barrett avenue, between Eighteenth and Twentieth streets, requested an ordinance be prepared, providing for the widening of that section of the street, to conform to that part to the north of Eighteenth street.

A request was made by Ira Knox, third ward, for legally closing an alley back of the Milton property, on Seventh street and Engineer, which has been closed for many years. Sam Milton, St. Louis, a former Sedalian, was one of the visitors in the audience. This matter was referred to the city engineer.

A request, for a street light on Fifth street, between Grand and Quincy avenues, where Prospect would be if it ran through, was referred to the Council as a whole and placed on file.

Suggests Highway By-Passes
A letter from Joseph Waddell, 906 West Broadway, was read, recommending the Council consider with the state highway department, relative to having highway by-passes for the use of trucks, to prevent them tearing up the

New Job For Police

Among odd duties assigned to policemen is that of informing proud fathers of the new additions to their families. Such was the case this morning when Chief of Police Anson Finnell received a telegram from the police department in Newton, Kas., requesting him to locate M/Sgt. John F. Wagner, Lowry Field, with the Mobile recruiting caravan at the fair, and give him the message, "Seven pound girl born at 9 p. m. and doing fine."

Rugged Alps Hold Mystery Of U. S. Plane

Which Was Downed Near Where Tito Was Spending a Vacation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—Undersecretary of State Acheson, in charge of the state department in the absence of Secretary Byrnes today flatly denounced a Yugoslav attack on an American plane as "an outrageous performance."

Acheson made this characterization as the United States handed the Yugoslav government a new and emphatic protest—the third disclosed in two days.

Acheson took the unusual course of permitting reporters at his news conference to quote him directly on the phrase, "outrageous performance" and lashed out at Yugoslavia's treatment of planes in the area near Trieste by saying that it was not the type of action one would expect from a friendly country.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 20.—(P)—The rugged Julian Alps held the mystery today of a second American C-47 army transport plane which a witness said went spiraling down in black smoke from shots fired by two Yugoslav fighter craft. The witnesses said four or five cannon shots also were heard.

The plane was flying from Vienna to Udine in Italy, a regular run of the European air transport service, and it was not clear whether the attack was over Yugoslav territory.

The person who saw the assault on the unarmed transport said the cannon shots could be heard on the ground near Bled, where Premier Marshal Tito was reported spending a vacation. Diplomats said Tito may personally explain the attacks.

Believed Crew of Five
The attack yesterday was southwest of Klagenfurt, Austria and about 25 miles from the spot where another U. S. Army transport was fired on by Yugoslav fighter planes and forced to land on August 9.

The occupants of the first plane were held incommunicado for a week before American diplomats could see them and protest subsequently that the incident was a "wicked, inexcusable and deliberate attack on a friendly nation's plane."

The C-47, missing since Monday morning, was believed to have carried a crew of five. The witnesses saw only two parachutes drop.

"We saw fighter planes attack and we saw the transport plane spiral down in a column of smoke and disappear into the mountains," the witness said; "then we saw a big column of black smoke appear, indicating that the plane had exploded."

Search Mountains
The witness said Yugoslav troops immediately started "a thorough search" of the mountains. A sliver of Yugoslavia juts northward to join the borders of Austria and Italy in the general area.

(In Washington, the U. S. State department, revealing a state of near war between American and Yugoslav troops at Trieste, accused Yugoslav forces of making illegal forays into the American occupation zone and unprovoked attacks on American soldiers.)

(The British foreign office in London said that it had protested in the strongest terms against invasion of the allied zone, and attacks on British and American troops.)

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Aug. 20.—(P)—All local service of the Central Missouri Telephone company at Warrensburg, Lexington, Sweet Springs and Holden was halted by a walkout of 56 telephone operators yesterday.

St. Louisans Among Large Delegation At State Fair Today

State Fair Notes

James P. Kem, of Kansas City, Republican candidate for United States Senator, is in Sedalia today attending the Missouri State fair as a guest of the management.

Mr. Kem stated it was one of the best exhibits he has ever seen in the many years he has been coming to the fair.

"All of the breeds of cattle," Mr. Kem said, "are represented by splendid specimens, but as a breeder of Shorthorns I am particularly interested in that exhibit which is being held today."

The Missouri State fair shows the American farmer, left to his own ingenuity and enterprise, has developed methods of farming and live stock breeding that are the marvel of the rest of the world, Mr. Kem said.

Mr. Kem will go from Sedalia to Jefferson City.

The lawn party given by the American Legion Auxiliary Sunday at the Highway Gardens at the State Fair grounds was attended by approximately 100 persons including the district president, Mrs. L. V. Price, of Warrensburg, and the president elect of the seventh district, Mrs. Eva Hernden, of Marshall.

A men's quartet composed of Ralph R. Guenther, Bob Wilde, A. R. Case and Carl Yessen furnished special music.

Mrs. Ira G. Espe and Mrs. Linden Lee Jones constituted the committee in charge. Mrs. Pearl Hall, chairman of the district radio committee, and Mrs. Alice Blackman White assisted in welcoming the guests throughout the afternoon.

On exhibition at the State Fair this year is Robinhood, a Palomino horse formerly ridden by Gene Autrey, motion picture star, and now owned by Adams Dairy Farm, Blue Springs. The golden horse is being shown at the fair by E. C. Adams, Jr.

Robinhood made a tour of the British Isles with Autrey and has since been featured at Madison Square Garden and cities all over America. He was purchased by the Adamses May 1.

Despite his twelve years' age, Robinhood makes a sprightly appearance and goes through his paces with alacrity. His side cantering performance is said to be one of the best in America. He does the march, high trot, side step, the pivot, "End of the Trail" pose, the prayer position, and the camel stretch.

In addition to the stunts Robinhood does in the show ring, he can untie knots, answer yes and no questions, and do the horse laugh.

Announcement that a Goodyear blimp is tentatively scheduled to come to Sedalia for a three-day stay was made today by M. T. Williamson, store manager for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

The Ranger, formerly the U. S. Navy L-18, is scheduled to fly in from St. Louis on August 22nd, weather permitting.

Currently on tour of the mid-west, the Ranger is the first of Goodyear's airship fleet to start post-war operations. While here, it will mast at the State Fair grounds.

The Ranger was one of five Goodyear blimps taken over by the navy at the outbreak of the war to be used for training purposes, while larger airships were being built for full scale patrol and escort duty over the shipping lanes. However, in the emergency, with enemy submarines taking a terrific toll among merchant ships and oil tankers, the smaller blimps were equipped with machine guns and bombs, and assigned to combat service through the first year of the war.

High spot of the Ranger's Navy career was delivery of vital supplies to the U. S. Hornet when the aircraft carrier was at sea, with General Doolittle and his fliers, en route to Japanese waters for

Sedalia Child Has Tetanus, Not Polio

Gaylon Alfrey, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alfrey, 1809 South Sneed avenue, who was taken to Mercy hospital in Kansas City Monday has tetanus but is believed to have a chance for recovery. He rested well Monday night according to word received by his family this afternoon.

He definitely does not have polio as was first thought, the doctors state.

Polio Fatal to Shirley Lee Keene

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 20.—(P)—Shirley Lee Keene, 9, died today of infantile paralysis. It was the twelfth resident death this year. She was the daughter of Mrs. Loraine Keene and granddaughter of T. J. Reed of Sedalia, Mo.

T. J. Reed is listed as living on Route 1, Sedalia.

Induction of 114 Men Into the Army At 4:15 p. m. Wednesday

It is St. Louis Day at the Missouri State Fair, and a delegation of St. Louisans are in attendance, along with a large crowd of others from all over Missouri. Today's attendance, Roy S. Kemper, secretary, said "is better than the average Tuesday, and I believe will be larger than last year by this evening."

There are two guest bands on the grounds, the Chaffee high school band directed by Oscar T. Hone, and the Bolivar high school band which is directed by E. E. Rice. Both bands are parading the grounds and at six o'clock this evening the bands will join together in a "massed band" concert.

This afternoon a full program of harness races is being held in front of the grandstand. Between each race high acts are being given in front of the stand on the infield. These acts will be given each afternoon and night through Saturday.

Wednesday will be Kansas City Day at the fair. It is understood a delegation of Kansas Citizens will arrive on the grounds early in the morning and remain throughout the horse show that night.

One of the feature attractions on the afternoon program in front of the grandstand is the expert shooting of Herb Parsons. Mr. Parsons does every known trick with his guns, from pistols and shot guns to sub-machine guns.

Horse Show in Coliseum
Tonight the horse show will be moved into the large coliseum where music will accompany the program. The show has been held on the race track last Sunday and Monday nights.

Secretary Kemper announced the attendance at the fair for Monday was 11,136 through the day and 5,200 in the evening, along with 2,500 season passes and a total of 18,936, which does not include approximately 1,000 children who were admitted free.

Tonight in front of the grandstand the well known Ernie Young Revue will take over the program and will show through Saturday night.

Mass Induction
A mass enlistment of Missouri men in the U. S. army will be received at the Missouri State Fair tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 in front of the stadium immediately following the horse races. A total of 114 enlistees will be in the group, one representing each of the 114 counties in Missouri.

Major General William F. Dean now assigned to the staff and command college at Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., will administer the oath of enlistment to the mass.

He is a former commanding general of the 44th infantry division.

Gen. Dean will fly to the Sedalia Army Air Field at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning and will be escorted by guard of honor and gun salute. He will be escorted by Missouri state highway patrolmen to Sedalia where he is to be entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Bothwell by Col. Lyman Goff, St. Louis, commanding officer of the Missouri recruiting district. Other guests at the luncheon will include Col. Wilford D. Smith, commanding officer of the Sedalia Army Air Field, who will also attend the enlistment ceremonies.

Many Re-Enlisting
The men who have enlisted have made application either at the army dispatch headquarters on the fair grounds or at their local recruiting district offices in the state. Many of the men are re-enlisting for duty and will be assigned to their old positions. New enlistees will be assigned to the places for which they are best fitted.

The mass enlistment tomorrow is in keeping with a nation-wide program for securing volunteer army men to "secure and maintain the national peace," said Capt. Elmore B. Cobb, local recruiting officer.

Major General Dean, who will administer the oath, holds a Distinguished Service Cross, a Distinguished Service Medal, a Legion of Merit and a Bronze Star medal with an oak leaf cluster. He was assigned to the 44th infantry in March, 1944.

New Polio Cases In Kansas
TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 20.—(P)—Seventy-three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Kansas last week, compared with 74 for the preceding seven-day period.

The stationary rate brought from Dr. C. H. Kinnaman, state epidemiologist, the comment that "it doesn't seem possible now that the rate can increase, since it has been held to the same level for two weeks."

Little Jap Princesses Get Hon. Dishpan Hands

Pictures and Text

NASU, Japan. (NEA) — The democratic influence of American occupation, which has made it unnecessary for the citizens of Japan to hide their faces when Emperor Hirohito walks among them, also has put the hands of his three princess daughters into dishwater.

At their vacation spot in this mountain resort area, they are getting along without their usual retinue of Imperial attendants and supervisors, and the princesses—
Kazuko Taka, 16; Atsuko Yori,
15, and Takako Suga, 7—are doing their own cooking and washing the dishes afterwards.

This sudden domesticity, which up to now has been beneath the dignity of the royal family, has even extended to gardening—or at least to kneeling among the vegetables. The Emperor is reported to be pleased, and so are his daughters. They have a brother, Akihito, 13, but he seems to have escaped helping his sisters on K. P.

Royal K. P.: The Japanese princesses at the kitchen sink, reading from dishpan to towel, are Kazuko, Atsuko and Takako.

Soupe, Soupe! Princess Takako, 7, climbed on a chair to watch her older sisters, Kazuko (right) and Atsuko stir up supper with the chopsticks. Looks as if Ta kaka doesn't like what's cooking.
But she looks pleased with the pumpkin her sisters are showing her in the garden (lower photo) of the Imperial summer home.

Meyer Bros. Presenting Out- standing Demonstration at Fair

The fair promises to be one of the biggest of its kind ever held in the recent years prior to the war and will feature many outstanding exhibits, showings and promotions.

Meyer Bros. have arranged one of the most interesting and which probably will be one of the most outstanding demonstrations, which will receive the interest of every home owner and everyone attending the fair.

The Ironrite Ironer company has arranged with Meyer Bros. to have Mrs. Momen to show the Ironrite Ironer throughout the fair period, at which time she will demonstrate the Ironrite Ironer in the ironing of shirts, dresses and all other garments.

One of the outstanding interests of this demonstration will be appreciated by everyone in seeing
Mrs. Momen ironing shirts blind fold.

Demonstrations will be conducted constantly throughout the entire period of the fair.

Reconversion's First Inventory: Home Appliance Makers Have Little Chance of Filling Consumer Demand This Year

Table model radios like these in RCA Victor's plant in Bloomington, Ind., are coming off the production line as fast as they did before the war. Table models are nearly 90 per cent of today's radio production, with only 10 per cent shared by console and auto models.

(Editor's Note: This is the last of four searching dispatches on the first 12 months of reconversion and what's to come, based on an industry-wide survey of manpower and the basic consumer commodities—steel, housing, automobiles and household appliances.)

By Marc J. Parsons
NEA Staff Correspondent

After a stumbling start marred by strikes, the home appliance industry still is a tortoise chasing the hare of demand in the post-war production race.

There is little chance that the industry will even approach that demand this year. With nearly full employment and big pay checks, the nation's buyers keep pushing the demand higher and higher.

Reconversion Director John R. Steelman says there is "abundant evidence that pre-war years are forever obsolete as a measure of the requirements of today and the future." And the industry, in its more optimistic moods, had only hoped to match pre-war production in the first year of peace. That hope was quickly strike-blasted.

Shortages Continue

It hasn't been only their own strikes like the prolonged labor war at Westinghouse or the short one at General Electric that

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P.W. is a medically sound treatment based on an officially approved drug principle. Refrigerators Lag Biggest production lags are in refrigerators, electric ranges and sewing machines.

Most of the rosy advertising dreams of redesigned kitchens, hidden stoves and round refrigerators haven't materialized so far. There probably is a lot more planning going into kitchen designing than before the war, but stoves are going to keep on looking like stoves and refrigerators like refrigerators. Manufacturers have found little or no demand to redesign their products.

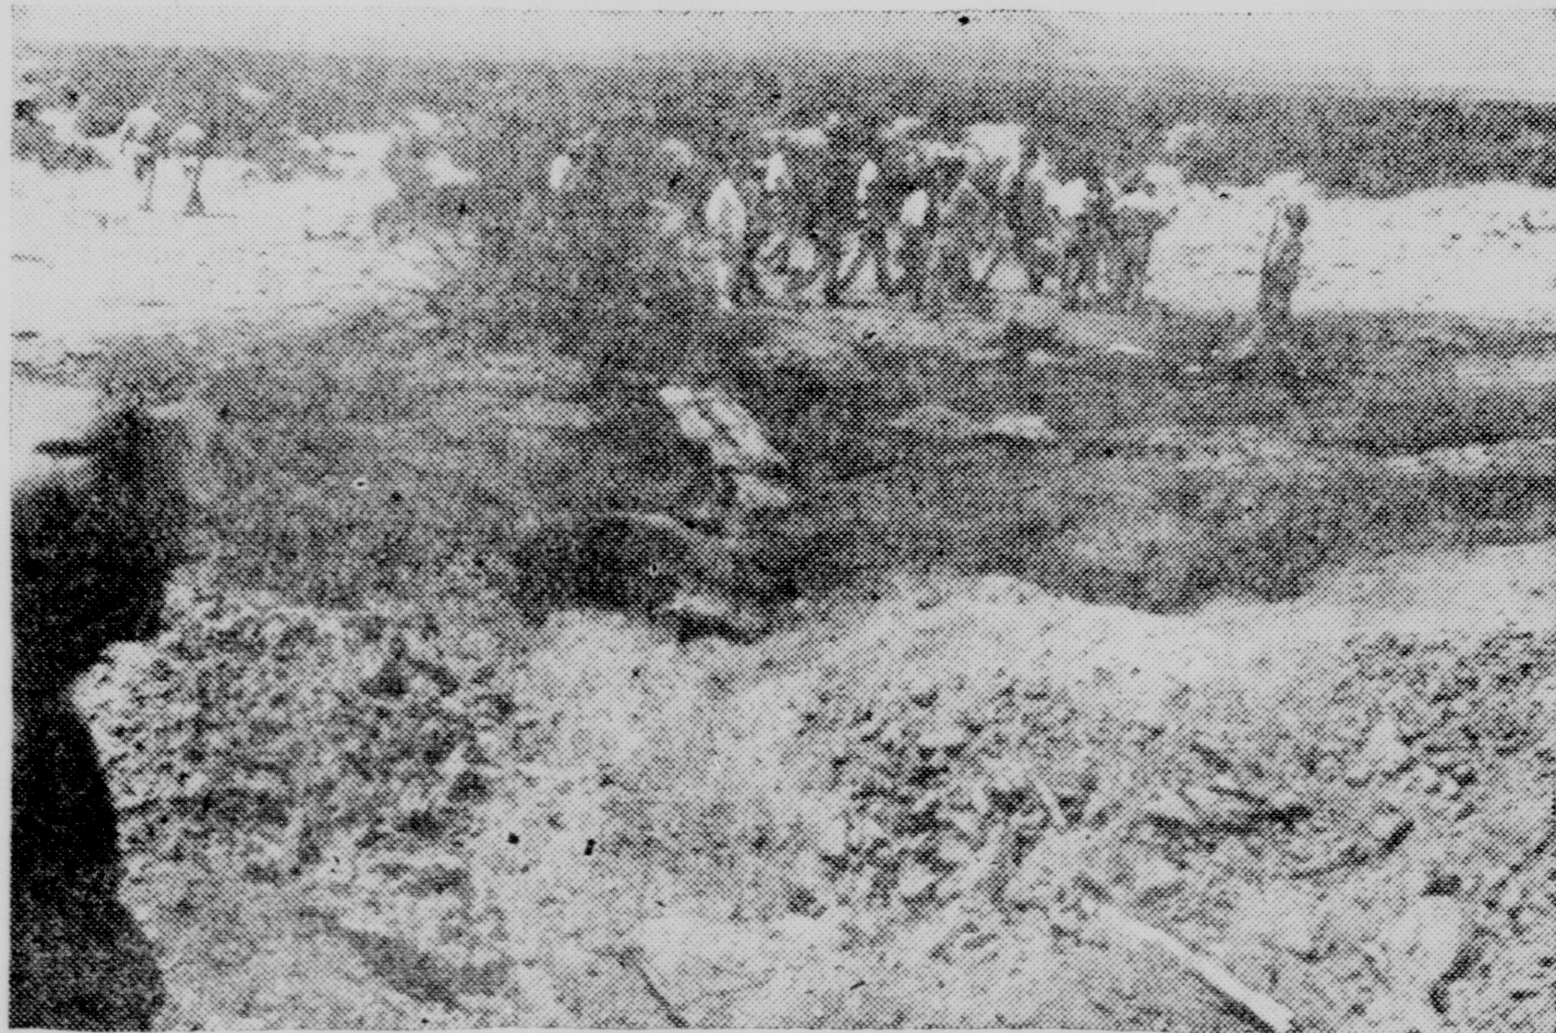

Home and farm freezer units, introduced shortly before the war, are one of the new items being pushed. Demand for farm freezers probably will hold pretty steady, but with city victory gardens slipping back into weeds again, the demand for big home freezers is expected to slacken. Many new refrigerators will include a small freezer unit.

Perhaps the biggest new sellers in household equipment will be electric sinks and automatic garbage disposal units.

General Electric expects to step up production in these items several hundred times above 1941 levels.

Regardless of future increases in production, however, most experts in the industry expect a continued sellers' market in household appliances for some time to come.

Archaeological

The archaeological exhibits at the Missouri State fair have been instrumental in educating some successful archaeologists who do not hold important positions, says J. B. L. Davis, Dodson, superintendent of the 1946 Missouri State fair archaeological exhibits.

Some started with only a cigar box full of Indian arrowheads and relics and now have priceless collections. Oakley Van Buskirk, Marshall, and his son have collected most of their relics in Saline county, and have a map and record showing where each relic was found. They rated high in this year's archaeological prize winners.

Davis said several collections had to be returned because of a shortage of exhibition cases. R. J. Euerr, Clinton, judged the exhibits.

Leonard Haslag of the State Museum, Jefferson City, contributed some fine collections for exhibition only. Haslag made his start in this field as a junior exhibitor at the Missouri State fair when he was quite young.

Infantile paralysis is a disease of "fears." Parents fear it more than they do any other disease of childhood, and the average adult is deeply concerned about his own protection from it.

It is small consolation to those who have been crippled by infantile paralysis or to those from whom it has taken a loved one to know that it is generally a mild infection. But the general public must understand this fact if mass hysteria is to be avoided.

It is now possible for every person suffering from infantile paralysis to receive cure, thanks to the generous national support of the program established by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This organization, in addition to spending large sums of money for research and for the training of physicians, nurses and technicians in the diagnosis and treatment of infantile paralysis, stands ready to provide any funds which are necessary for patient care and for control of the disease.

Crisis Is Reached Early

The first few days of infantile paralysis are the most critical, and the majority of the fatalities occur during this period. The critical period is over more quickly than it is in any other disease.

Fatalities usually result from infection of the upper portion of the spinal cord and the lower portion of the brain.

Infantile paralysis patients tell us that it is a terrifying sensation to discover that one cannot move an arm or a leg or to experience difficulty in breathing. This is particularly true since the average patient was perfectly well just a few days before.

Little children are frightened when they develop infantile paralysis, especially so since most of them have to be taken to hospitals, where they are kept in isolation. The sudden separation from their parents terrifies them, and nurses in charge of infantile paralysis wards need plenty of help in comforting their little charges.

A child or an adult with any disabling condition tends to develop anxieties regarding it, and this is especially true of infantile paralysis victims. The patient wonders whether or not he is going to recover the use of his muscles and, if so, how long it will take.

bag disposal units. General Electric expects to step up production in these items several hundred times above 1941 levels.

Regardless of future increases in production, however, most experts in the industry expect a continued sellers' market in household appliances for some time to come.

Mine Found on Coney Island Beach

A Coney Island beach guard examines a live mine which washed up on the shore of the famed bathing resort. him. He wonders whether or not he will be able to work or play again, and what people will think of him after his recovery.

Muscles Improve Quickly

The muscle weakness in infantile paralysis, most pronounced in the beginning, quickly improves for a time. After that, however, progress is slow. Much of the prospect for success depends upon the patient's willingness to follow instructions.

The end result of paralysis recovery is difficult to predict, as improvement may continue for years.

Vocational rehabilitation programs include special training for those who have had infantile paralysis. Their interests are consulted, their aptitudes are determined, and financial support for their education is provided.

Everything is being done to allay fears in and of infantile paralysis, but it will take time before this disease and its after-effects are understood by the public.

South Abell Club Meets

Members of the South Abell Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. G. E. Miller for the August meeting. Mrs. Hugh Fairfax was assisting hostess.

The business meeting was opened with the singing of the club song and repetition of the club collect. The 100th Psalm was read as the devotional service. Mrs. John Billings read the monthly news letter.

The club voted unanimously to prepare and voted Christmas boxes to European children.

After the health letter had been read, a survey of health conditions in the school and community was taken. A talk on the project "Farm and Home Safety" was given by Mrs. J. E. Fairfax.

Mrs. John Schanneup, assisted by Mrs. John Billings, will be hostess of the September meeting.

Jeers Change To Cheers For Sisler

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Dick Sisler, the forgotten man of the St. Louis Cardinals since his early season failure at first base, is changing the jeers to cheers at Sportsman's Park with his clutch hitting in the Red Birds' drive to catch the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lead by 1 1/2 games.

The son of the great George Sisler started the campaign as the regular Cardinal first sacker, prompting Manager Eddie Dyer to okay the sale of Ray Sanders to Boston.

When Sisler failed to hit big league pitching, Dyer gave him a rest. Sisler "flopped" on a second try. Dyer tried him in left field Aug. 9 and he has hit at a .310 clip since he regained a regular job.

6-0 Over Cincinnati

Last night the brawny young-ster started the Birds off to a 6-0 romp over Cincinnati on a double with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Young Sisler's father now is one of the top talent scouts for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Sisler has to share top billing with Ken Burkhardt who shut out the Reds with eight scattered hits, the fourth time he has whipped Cincinnati this season.

St. Louis' shutout over Cincinnati was the scheduled game in the National and was the only big league game played as threat-ening weather forced postpone-ment of Chicago-New York and St. Louis-Boston tilts in the American league.

Hopp is Tied With Musial In Batting

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(P)—Johnny Hopp of Boston has moved into a first place tie with Stan Musial of St. Louis for the National League batting league ac-cording to averages including Sun-day's games but Mickey Vernon of Washington still held a com-fortable 10-point margin in the American league.

Although Hopp appeared in only two games during the past week he collected two hits in five trips to advance into a tie at .365 with Musial whose hot batting pace slipped off four points.

Dixie Walker of Brooklyn clung to third place at .359.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(P)—Australian track officials, who have been dickering to get some United States college team to make a tour to Melbourne in the next year or so, are likely to make Louisiana State and Coach Bernie Moore their No. 1 selection.

For the first time since the war, Cornell's football team will hold "daily double" sessions when drills begin September 2. That isn't surprising since Ed McKeever discovered there was poison in the league last fall.

There's a roller derby at the Polo Grounds while the park's regular inhabitants are in the west and some fans claim it's nothing new. The Glants also around and get nowhere.

His Lucas Good

A Roanoke, Va., baseball fan, Lawrence Lucas, became annoyed recently because his home town was hitting enough home runs. The Roanoke Red Sox had blasted only five all-season.

Instead of just cursing the management, Lucas did things into his own hands and offered $25 a bonus as an incentive for socking them in the home park.

During the next 13 games, the Red Sox connected for ten homers, which gave Mr. Lucas the thrills he wanted but cost him $250.

One-Minute Sports Page

When Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns play an exhibition against the Brooklyn football Dodgers at Akron, O., August 30, they hope to break the rubber bowl attendance record set when Brown's Mas-sachusetts team played Akron a few years ago.

The Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy basketball team will play five " Ivy League " teams, as well as Maryland and St. John's next winter. Seems that the Mariners would do better to plant a few sprigs of ivy around their buildings instead of acquiring it the hard way.

Ed Ehlers, who starred in basket-ball and baseball at Purdue but didn't play football until he entered the Army, will try for the Boilermaker grid varsity this year. He was fullback on the Air Force All-Star team last fall.

Nature's Forces Hold the Rings Around Saturn...

and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

NO one knows just why Saturn is the only planet to have rings around it. We do know, however, that mighty forces of gravitational attraction hold them there. Through extensive research into the forces of attraction between molecules of liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils.

Using the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. In fact, so strong is this attraction that cylinder walls are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

- added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine
- added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

(Ed. Note — Today Drew Pearson gives another important diagnosis of our difficult and all-important relations with Soviet Russia.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—If the Soviet government had deliberately set out to make mistakes it couldn't have made more than it has piled up in the past year. In the one year that has passed since V-J day, Russia has won the ill will of her neighboring countries in Europe, has lost virtually all her friends in the United States and has turned most of the world against her.

In considering our present strained relations with Russia, this is all-important. It indicates that time is running on our side, that Russia's own policies are playing into our hands, and that war can be avoided.

One year ago Soviet Russia was considered the great savior of the world. In Europe, the Russians were given credit, far more than the United States, for liberating the occupied countries, were even hailed by some as the pioneers of a new world order. In the USA, most Americans had a genuine admiration for the heroism of the Russian people and looked forward to a period of friendly cooperation.

Today that goodwill has vanished. In all of Russia's satellites, with the possible exception of Finland and Czechoslovakia, the Soviet is extremely unpopular, even hated. Rumania and Bulgaria would bolt Russia in a minute were it not for the Red army. Hungary and Austria, which Russia hoped to win over, voted overwhelmingly against the Soviet. In France the strong Communist influence has now hit the downgrade. Even in Yugoslavia, where Tito is supposed to be supreme, the Russians are not popular.

Most interesting fact is that the countries nearest the Russians usually dislike them most. Thus in more distant France, there is more pro-Soviet sentiment than in the adjacent Balkans.

Finally, in the American-British zones of Germany, Germans are fearful lest the western allies eventually evacuate and Russia walks in.

U. S. Stock Goes Up
Thus the world has turned against an aggressor nation. This also, the world has turned toward a nation which has no selfish axes to grind and which is attempting to cooperate with the rest of the world.

This is what Secretary of State Byrnes has sincerely tried to do at Paris; and as far as this observer could ascertain, his patient, fair-minded policy is paying dividends. Part of the world, once ready to sing Russia's praises, has veered toward the United States.

Therefore, the No. 1 point of American policy should be to work things out within the family of nations; to put Palestine and other controversial problems under the United Nations; not to let the British drag us into separate alliances. This is our greatest danger. If we become the tail on the British kite, we can be carried into war with Russia—exactly where the British foreign office imperialists want us. But as long as the smaller independent nations of the world are convinced of our unselfish motives, as long as we remain aloof from both sides, our strength as a world leader is secure.

U. S.-Soviet Tension Increases
However, this alone may not head off war with Russia. As this is written, censored diplomatic dispatches from the Far East report three days of rifle skirmishing between American troops along the Korean border. This is the first time U. S.-USSR troops have deliberately fired at each other. Another censored dispatch from London reports the British general staff meeting daily to plan strategy for defending the British lifeline in the Near East.

In other words, certain belligerent elements in Russia are quite willing to risk war now and certain elements in England believe a showdown is better now than later. In a charged atmosphere like this, one spark can cause tragedy.

However, this observer's experience in watching foreign affairs convinces him that seldom does any nation provoke an incident if it knows that incident might start a war; thus the best way to prevent war is to let a prospective belligerent know he will get it in the neck if he sticks his neck out.

In other words, if Russia knows categorically and definitely that she will be at war with us if she becomes an aggressor against the United Nations, then the chances are 100 to 1 Russia will risk no war.

We Could Have Stopped Hitler

To illustrate: If Adolf Hitler had known he would have been at war with France and England when he sent his troops into the Ruhr and Rhineland he never would have given them marching orders. As it was, fearing war, he gave them two sets of orders, one to advance and the second to retreat if the French army resisted.

Likewise, Hitler never would have sent his troops into Austria if he hadn't known Allies were unprepared. It has now developed that Hitler had no real military strength at that time, was shrewdly banking on Allied timidity and dissension. He was right.

Later, of course, having won powerful industries and resources in the Ruhr, Austria and Czechoslovakia, Hitler was in a position where he dared risk war by invading Poland. But had not France and Britain vacillated in the Ruhr, Austria and Czechoslovakia, Hitler never could have risked war with Poland.

Likewise with Japan when it first invaded China. Had Secretary of State Stimson had President Hoover's support in 1931 when the Japs waded into Manchuria; or had he received British-French support when he urged the League of Nations to act against Japan, our long and costly battle of the Pacific might have been avoided.

Japan Outguessed Us

Even five years later, when Franklin Roosevelt and Ad. Leahy tried to induce the nine-power pact signatories and our state department appeasers to blockade Japan, we could have prevented the Pacific war.

But Japan knew the power of our isolationist Chicago Tribunes and Washington Times-Heralds. She knew also the deceptive diplomacy of the British foreign office. And little by little the Japs captured the resources of all China, then of Indo-China until they had built up an empire which required four years to defeat.

World strategy has not changed since then. The same thing is also true of Russia. If she gets away with her first aggressive step in Turkey; or if she annexes Iran, she will probably get away with the other aggressive steps, until finally we find ourselves set for a serious showdown — and war.

If, however, the first aggressive step is never taken, there will be no war. And that first step will not be taken if Russia knows definitely and categorically that, if she takes it, there will be war with the United States.

In brief the three main points on our program to prevent war with Russia should be: 1. Avoid being the tail on the British kite and work through the United Nations; 2. Let Russia know that her first aggressive step in violation of the United Nations means war with the USA; 3. Do everything in our power, as so frequently urged by this column, to win the friendship of the Russian people.

(Ed. Note — Another column by Drew Pearson on how to prevent war in Europe will follow shortly.)

Truman Worries Over China

Straight-talking GOP Senator Owen Brewster of Maine came back from China with some different conclusions on U. S. relations there than his companions, Senators Hugh Butler of Nebraska and Allen Ellender of Louisiana, who had urged evacuation of our troops.

Brewster gave his first report in private to President Truman with no holds barred. He came out flatly and aggressively against evacuation at this time. What's more, he made his arguments stand up. Truman agreed that it would be unwise to pull out our troops during the present churning state of unrest.

Much of what Truman said must be kept off the record for sound diplomatic reasons, but he left no doubts that he sided with Brewster and not with Butler and Ellender. "I am familiar with the statements of others who favor evacuation and I still agree with you that it's too early," the president told the Maine Republican.

Brewster didn't throw any bouquets at Soviet Russia in his appeal. He charged that the Russians were turning over large quantities of Japanese arms and materials to Chinese Communists. "I think we should continue to maintain a policy of vigilance in China to safeguard the peace of the world," he said. "I don't want to sound like an alarmist, but in my opinion the amalgamation of Russia and China would mean a development of political and military power such as the world has never seen. Within a generation our sons will pay the price if we make the mistake of ignoring this."

Brewster added that not only peace in the Pacific but the "peace of the world" was involved in the Chinese question.

"I cannot too strongly urge you to keep our troops in China until we have a better knowledge of the extent of Soviet plans and influences within the nation," pleaded the senator from Maine. "Our duty is clear. We owe it to ourselves and to the world to maintain a watchful policy and to keep our powder dry in China."

"I won't argue with you on that score," replied Truman.

Daughter Of Mine

THE STORY: Cecily has organized her own sorority. She has no connection about "dancing" black-balling—girls she doesn't like.

XVI

I ASKED unbelievably, "Cecily, you don't mean that you'd actually ding another girl—hurt her perhaps for life?"

"She had no business wanting to join," Cecily returned, pouring my tea. "It wouldn't be a kindness to let her come in—she hasn't enough money to keep up with the rest of us and her father is nothing but a garbage collector."

"He contracts for the salvaging of waste products. He'll make more money as time goes on—it's a new project for him. And what difference does it make, anyhow? His daughter is pretty and sweet."

Cecily giggled. "Aunt Mavis—you're quaint."

"What do the other girls' fathers do?" I persisted.

"They're in businesses their families can be proud of," Della chimed in.

"I suppose playground work ranks with garbage collecting?" I queried. "Salvaging kids who aren't as lucky as Cecily and Ella May and Janine. Is that why Corinna hasn't been acceptable to your sorority, Cecily?"

Cecily went scarlet, but Della stirred her tea, unembarrassed. "I don't see where you have any kick coming. You've had your chances to amount to something. It isn't Cecily's fault if you like having Corinna hobnobbing with the scum of the earth."

We went on drinking our tea. Cecily was still uncomfortable. I saw, but Della seemed pleased. She thought she had settled my hash for not letting Corinna take the largesse she had offered. And sitting there, looking from one to the other of them, seeing their smugness, their utter incapacity for compassion except within the limits of their own charmed circle, I love and peace in this house of ours, my heart cried, why was the peace never enough for me?

I could not sleep that night. At last I made a pretense of not wishing to disturb Robert and slipped away from him to the bed that had been Cecily's.

THE next three years were momentous ones for the entire world and our lives did not escape the demands of war. First there was conscription in the United States and then came Pearl Harbor. Stevie Ralston came home from the East to stay until he should be drafted; the romance was on again more ardently than ever.

This time Myrtle Ralston offered no opposition, facing it squarely that there was no use in being too concerned about Stevie's mature years. His young ones might be all he would ever have; if he wanted Cecily now he was free to marry her.

Della was all for it—Cecily a Ralston but with Stevie away appealed to her as an ideal arrangement. Cecily, of course, would remain at home with Della. I waited tensely for announcement of their engagement, but it did not come.

Val had wanted to volunteer but Robert persuaded him to wait. He was majoring in chemistry in junior college and his professors said that another two years of lab work, if he were fortunate enough to escape the draft, would make him much more valuable to his country.

"But Stevie is aiming for the Air Force," I told Robert. "Val could make it easily. He wants Cecily and he can't possibly compete with Stevie as things are."

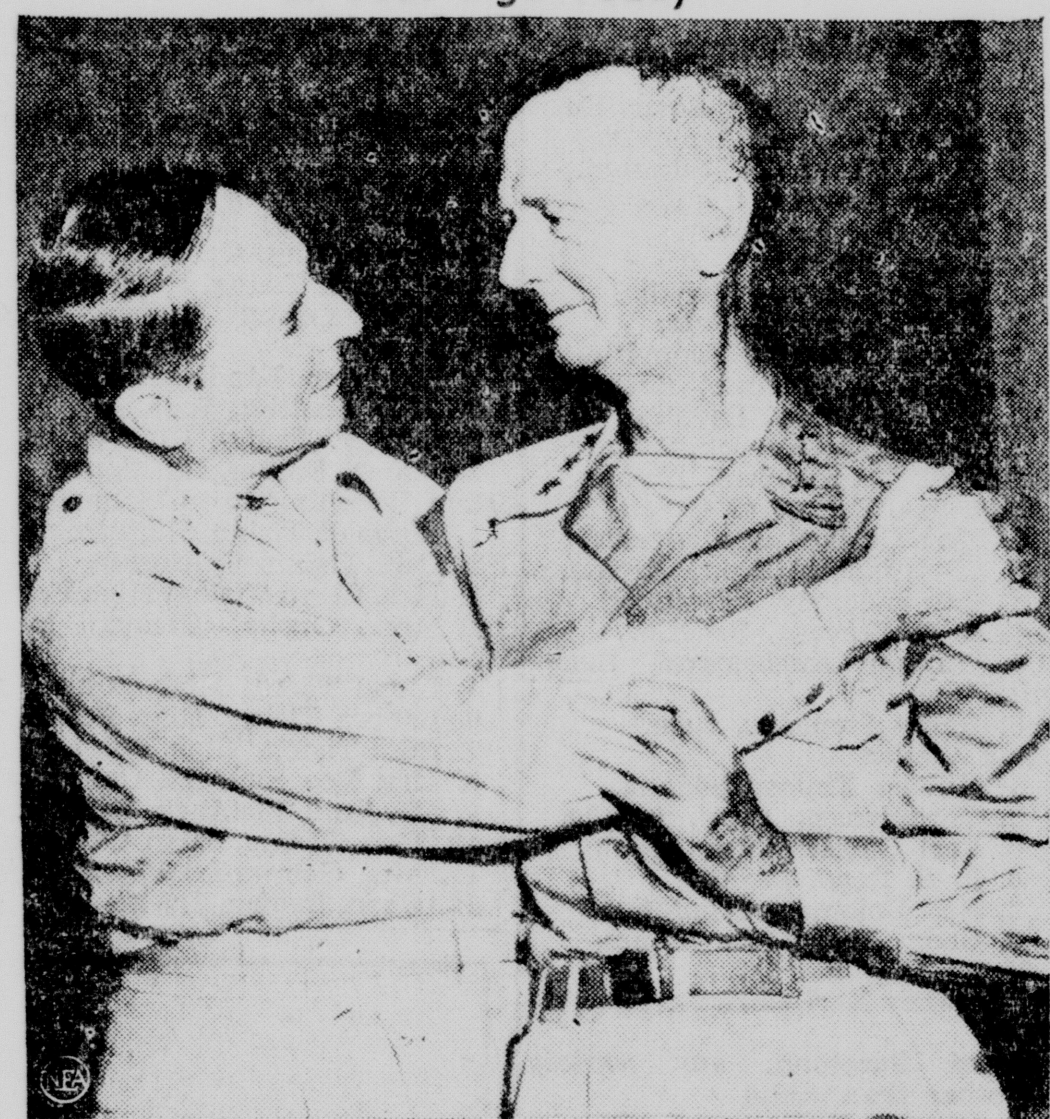

"I doubt that Cecily would be good for Val."

"He'd be good for HER," I said. "And besides—" I broke off. And besides if she married Val she would be away from Della's influence. I could be with her often, teach her all the things Della had neglected.

Married to Stevie she would be almost as inaccessible to me as she was now.

A Year Ago Today—

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, one of the heroic "expendables" who stayed on Bataan to fight a vital delaying action, was rescued from a prisoner-of-war camp at Sian, Manchuria. Weak and emaciated, he was tearfully happy to learn the world held him in proud respect rather than in shame for his surrender of Bataan and Corregidor.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

W. D. Steele left last night for Jefferson City on a business visit and will proceed from there to New York to be present at the W. J. Bryan reception there.

The street car line to the new shops is now extended to Garfield avenue on East Broadway and linemen are stringing the trolley wire further eastward.

A resolution for the repairing of West Fourth street with asphalt was presented to the city council Monday night by Alderman S. M. Hodges, the matter being referred to streets and alleys committee.

The Rev. E. A. Neville, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, will return from a visit in Mexico on, or about, August 23, parishioners have been advised. On Sunday, August 26, he will officiate and preach at services at that church.

Conductor W. J. Whiprecht, of the Missouri Pacific, is arranging to remove his family back to Sedalia from the state capital city, and will do so as soon as he can lease a suitable residence.

Linoleum cannot be waxed too often. The thicker the coat of wax you build up by repeated waxing, the more protection you give the floor covering.

Shoes, purses, brief cases, luggage and riding boots will be conserved if a coating of wax is spread over them. The wax will act as a dry lubricant.

CRITICAL PERIOD AHEAD FOR CARS

We urge all car owners to have their vehicles given a thorough inspection as often as once a month. Our skilled mechanics can discover hidden defects in cars which if taken in hand at once will keep the vehicle in service and perhaps prevent some frightful accident.

This is the only way that owners of cars and trucks can make their situation less precarious during the next four or five months.

CONSTIPATION GONE WRITES INVENTOR!

"4 years' use convinces me nothing helps like KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN"

This true incident may bring new hope to constipation sufferers. Read this unsolicited letter!

"Some of my friends were talking about a laxative ad in the Post. I cut it out and told them how it has helped keep me out of a condition I was in 4 years ago. Then they told me the ad they were discussing was an ALL-BRAN ad—they told me I should have a medal for spreading the good news about ALL-BRAN—which had helped these friends too." W. J. McLaughlin, 605 2nd No. St., Camden, N. J.

Scientists say KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulose" elements in the diet—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements. They work by helping the friendly colonic flora to fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative medicine—but a wholesome, gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't cheer its welcome relief. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

The 'College of Nuclear Knowledge' is Major World Scientific Institution

Balcony view of a "hot lab": One classroom for select student body of "College of Nuclear Knowledge" will be this futuristic-looking laboratory at Oak Ridge, where chemical extraction of radioactive species takes place.

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—The Clinton Laboratories, which began work in Sept., 1943, on a one-year experiment to determine the "know-how" of atomic bomb making and handling, have now developed into one of the most important scientific institutions in the country.

The intended temporary nature of the establishment is apparent on every hand. When the first newspapermen were taken into its holy of holies a few days ago, they found wooden and galvanized iron buildings nearly everywhere. They were painted a neat gray with green trim. But the place still looked more like a construction camp or a mining town than a spotless laboratory. Instead of the white frock coats which the scientists wear in the advertising illustrations, the Clinton technicians wore field shoes and coveralls, or just plain pants and shirts.

A big, barn-like frame structure going up near the pilot plant pile and the "hot lab" is to house what has been nicknamed "Dr. E. P. Wigner's College of Nuclear Knowledge." It will open about Sept. 1 with a select student body of 35—about half chemists, half physicists. All will be graduate scientists now employed by leading industrial research organizations or heads of science departments of leading universities. They will be coming to this somewhat bleak, barren and out of the way place to learn how to handle nuclear energy—atoms and isotopes that hold unknown secrets. In this one-campus-like campus will be one of the highest institutions of scientific learning in the world.

State Fair Awards Agriculture

Polk county was declared winner of the 1946 Missouri State fair county exhibits. Newton placed second and Pettis third, with seven counties competing. A good crop season in Missouri was reflected in the quantity of entries in this department. Corn was light due to the showing of corn of 1945 when little quality corn was produced in the state. Also a germination test was required of all crops seed this year. Davis H. Acuff, Troy, was in charge of the show, with R. T. Wright, Maryville, assistant superintendent. Judges of the show were J. W. Kunkler, Jefferson City, and J. M. Poehlein, Columbia.

Congress Ups Veteran's Aid To $10,395,577.415 This Year

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written for the Sedalia Democrat, and Capital by the author of NEA's authoritative column on veteran's affairs, "Your GI Rights.")

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The 79th Congress appropriated more than $10,000,000,000 to be spent on veterans for the fiscal year of 1946-47. That's almost one-third of the entire national budget for the year.

And in addition to cash, important improvements were made in many of the laws dealing with veteran affairs.

The major veterans' organizations, acting together on the important bills and alone on their pet legislation, got practically everything they asked for from the congressmen.

Next to the victory on terminal pay for enlisted men, the veterans' organizations are happiest about the amendments to the National Service Life Insurance law. The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, AVC and Amvets all pulled together and cooperated on getting this bill through.

The most important sections of the amendment permit the conversion of GI insurance to several types of endowment policies and permits lump sum payments to beneficiaries.

The Disabled American Veterans organization was most pleased with the pension boost. This measure gives a material increase to every one of its members. Both VFW and the Legion worked hard on this measure, too. Congress also changed the law which formerly cut pensions to the bone for men in veterans' hospitals.

Most hospitalized vets and their dependents will not have to take such a severe cut in pension under the new law.

The extension of Selective Service is also a victory partly claimed by the American Legion. The Legion has consistently fought for adequate national preparedness.

Child Rescued From Under Bed During Fire
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 20—(P)—Three-year-old Billy Dobbs was rescued by firemen Monday after he had hidden behind a bed instead of running to safety when fire enveloped his mother's home.

Firemen W. D. Schisler and Edward Gartland heard the child's sobs and went through a sheet of boards to enter the bedroom where Schisler located the boy.

The child was taken to a hospital suffering minor burns.

VA Is Growing
The burial allowance for veterans was increased from $100 to $150.

All Veterans Administration facilities were increased, including hospitals, training, etc.

The Surplus Property law was changed to give veterans better priority and a better chance to exercise their priority.

Important housing legislation was passed, which is expected to help veterans.

Veterans Administration grew from 50,000 persons a year ago to more than 150,000 persons now. And by the end of this year VA has plans to have approximately 250,000 employees.

The end of the congress, however, finds the various vet organizations already lining up their legislative programs for the next session. Both the Legion and VFW are cooking plans for Congress to provide more jobs for veterans.

If prices continue to rise more pressure will also be applied to again boost pensions and educational payments. There will be continued pressure on getting more housing.

It still doesn't look as if there will be any all-out drive for a bonus. VFW will continue quietly plugging for what it calls adjustment of servicemen's compensation. DAV and VFW and the other vet organizations are laying back, waiting to see what the economic conditions of the country will be in the next few years before opening the big guns.

Congress for a bonus. Meantime many of the states are giving bonuses to World War II veterans.

The success of the current veteran legislative program bears out the prediction that the veteran lobby would become the most powerful in the history of the country. And the decision of the big three veteran organizations to stay out of national politics appears to be bearing fruit.

Sheriff Has Famous Horse

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 20—(P)—Hatsushimo, who once arched his proud white neck in the stables of Emperor Hirohito, became a hostage Monday in a law suit.

Sheriff George Goff set out to a nearby ranch where Hatsushimo is being boarded to take custody of the emperor's famed white stallion on a writ of attachment secured by Virgil Dixon.

Dixon claimed Hatsushimo's new owner, Dick Ryan, Los Angeles, Calif., showman, owes him $782 back wages for work since last May.

Along with Hatsushimo, Sheriff Goff expected to secure custody of a trailer and two jeeps which Ryan also left behind when he was called back to the coast while en route to St. Louis.

Hatsushimo won't spend the waiting time until the case is heard in common pleas court in the lockup. The sheriff also planned to arrange for his comfortable keep while the processes of law are worked out.

The August meeting of the Lone Oak Busy Bee club was held at the home of Mrs. Chester Carpenter and attended by ten members and several visitors. Mrs. Vincel Shroat was welcomed back to the club.

After a socially spent morning, a covered dish dinner was served at noon.

The afternoon session was opened with "Onward, Christian Soldiers" sung in unison, led by Mrs. Maynard Steele. Mrs. Will Hatfield gave the Scripture reading, using Psalms 1-12. A total of 23 books was reported read by members last month.

Mrs. Carl Moon and Mrs. Harvey Richardson won game awards.

Mrs. Chester Carpenter was given a kitchen shower.
